COMMISSION FINALLY MEETS

Members Agree Call Is in Proper Form and Then Proceed to Consider Paving and Other Important Matters

Satisfied that the call of Mayor George U. Young for a special meeting of the city commission for yesterday afternoon was in proper form, the city fathers gathered at the commission chambers and proceeded to transact the first business in more than a month. The meeting did not begin sharply at 2 o'clock, Commissioner Richey not being on hand at that time. But he arrived a few minutes after 2 o'clock and apologized for having delayed the transaction of business.

The business of the session was taken up in the same order as that prescribed in the call, which carried thirty-two matters for consideration. The first was that of the opening of bids for the paving of Madison street from Third street to Third avenue. There was but one bid, that of the California-Arizona Asphalt company, for $236 for the 11,401 square yards it is proposed to pave. H. W. Ryder was on hand with a protest against the awarding of a contract at this time and the matter was finally allowed to go over to the next meeting.

Ordinances for the improvement of those streets set forth in the call were adopted, but Commissioner Richey, declaring that a large paving company would locate a plant here if it succeeded in securing a contract of sufficient extent to warrant the expense, asked for and secured the postponement of the adoption of resolutions of intention to pave some streets, plans for which had been adopted at a previous meeting. He made it apparent that it was his idea it would be better to adopt the resolutions after all the paving ordinances had become law.

An ordinance to regulate automobile garages where volatile and inflammable oils are stored and kept for sale, went over to the next meeting. The contract for the erection of a band stand and comfort station was awarded sometime ago by City Manager Craig, and the commission yesterday approved the award authorizing the city manager to execute the contract with C. W. Hughey and M. M. Tomeray, in the sum of $4,218. To the adoption of this ordinance with the emergency clause attached, Commissioner Richey objected, stating he did not feel that an emergency existed. His objections carried no weight with the commission, Mayor Young stating that an emergency actually did exist in that the matter had been up for so many months that it should be disposed of without further delay.

A proposed automobile regulation ordinance was given reading and went over to the next meeting.

Former Mayor Christy appeared before the commission and requested the adoption of a resolution permitting the Y. M. C. A. to go ahead with the construction of a third floor to the present structure, without being obliged to install metal lath where ordinary lath had been employed in the construction of the original floors. The resolution was adopted and the commission recessed until 2 o'clock this afternoon.

MAKER'S WORD NOT A DEFENSE

Seller of an Intoxicating Liquor Cannot Plead That He Had Been Told That It Was a Harmless Beverage

By a ruling of the court, the guarantee of the Copper City Brewing company cannot be relied upon for defense for disposing of Frio Beer. When the state offered objection to this evidence in the case of the state against J. J. Elliott and O. B. Hall for selling intoxicating liquor, Judge Stanford sustained the objection. The court held the defendant was bound to know whether or not the beverage he dispensed was of an intoxicating character.

The argument on objection to evidence halted the case more than two hours yesterday afternoon. The court room was crowded with interested spectators, women as well as men, among whom were many who had taken an active part in the prohibition campaign. There were members of the W. C. T. U., the Civic League and the Y. M. C. A., and to attorneys the case seemed to have an unusual interest. The regular court room habitués were there in usual numbers.

William H. Woolf, deputy sheriff, was the first witness called. He testified that on September 23 and 24 he had gone to the Anheuser bar and had bought samples of both the bottled and draft Frio beer. He told of the general nature of the business that was then being conducted by the defendants. Fifty or more men were lined up at the bar when he was there, said Mr. Woolf.

Dr. Watkins on the witness stand, said he had analyzed Frio beer and had found it to contain 2.9 alcohol by weight and 3.5 by volume. The bottles of Frio he tested were introduced and identified by Mr. Woolf.

Deputy Sheriff George Sears was the next witness called, and he corroborated the testimony of Mr. Woolf. These were the officers who arrested the defendants.

Harrison M. Williams, another attaché of the sheriff's office, told of the general surroundings and business at the Anheuser at the time in question.

Attorney W. L. Barnum for the defendants then asked that Hall's connection with the case be dismissed since there was no direct evidence that Hall had secured the license, the business thus far being placed with Elliott. The motion was denied by Judge Stanford. The Hall case then rested.

J. J. Elliott then took the stand. Under examination Elliott stated that the sale of Frio was carried on for four days by himself and Hall. He said that he had purchased Frio from the Copper City Brewing company. The case will be continued at nine-thirty o'clock this morning.

NO ACTION YET ON PARI-MUTUEL—Warrants were not issued yesterday morning in the matter of the operation of the pari-mutuel machine in the way of a tryout at the track of the fair grounds on Tuesday. Representatives of the churches and the Y. M. C. A. called on the authorities yesterday to inquire what was going to be done about it but the legal advisers of the state and county were not sure that anything could be done. No conclusion was reached last night but it was stated that a decision would probably be arrived at today.

AMUSEMENTS

POPULAR CONTEST OF COLISEUM CHORISTERS

Armstrong's Baby Dolls did it again. The chorus girls' contest was the best ever shown here. Each and every one of the Baby Dolls did a specialty. The show for tonight will be the "Follies of 1915" and will give the patrons of this popular playhouse an opportunity of seeing one of New York's greatest successes. There will be an entire change of show tonight; new scenery, new costumes, and new electrical effects. Edith Welman will be seen at her best tonight, singing the most popular songs published.

Mary Pickford at the Arizona Today Only

"Rags," with Mary Pickford in the title role, will be shown at the Arizona for the last time tonight. The story is that of a poor country girl's romance, and the part is most admirably carried through by the famous Miss Mary. The story is photographed in excellent locations and the scenery is most beautiful, and the picture is one that will be stamped heavy among the list of Miss Pickford's successes, and is certainly worth seeing. The South American travel pictures will also be shown here for the last time tonight. The new bill tomorrow will mark the first appearance of Pauline Frederick in the silent drama in this city, the film in which she stars being entitled "Sold."

"Baby Mine" Big Hit
"Baby Mine," the big laughing success presented by the popular Ed Kimball Young and Wilton Lackaye is drawing record houses to the cozy Elks theater this week.

The Redmonds have excelled themselves in this clever New York production. Every member of the cast gives a stellar performance, the stage settings are far above any ever attempted in this city while the play is absolutely the funniest ever staged. Throughout the three acts, which run along at a cyclonic gait there is never a dull moment; the crisp lines, snappy action, uproariously funny scenes and diversified character creations; all tend to make the current production of "Baby Mine" the biggest hit of the season. The play will run throughout the week with a popular matinee on Saturday afternoon.

Faversham at the Empress

Many who have seen William Faversham of the legitimate stage, will gladly welcome the chance to see him in his first great five-part picture, filmed from the book and stage play, "The Right of Way," written by the well known author, Sir Gilbert Parker. It is staged in the limitless woods of the great north and is full of human interest and heart-grIPPING situations, as well as many thrills. It is also full of action and is of a character to show the ability of the great actor at his best. He is very ably supported by another favorite, Jane Grey. This will be shown for the last time today. Don't miss this treat.

Lamara Theater

"Simon the Jester," the attraction at the Lamara theater yesterday will be run again at the popular theater today. There is one thing to be remembered about the Gold Rooster pictures that are showing every week at the Lamara theater. They are absolutely new pictures, made by the best talent in the country and shown for the first time in Phoenix. They are not second run pictures. There is no sort of misrepresentation about the programs at the Lamara theater.

Columbia

The Roy Clair players change their program tonight and present for the first time here "The Girl and the Hero," a farce with a military flavor set to music. The play is located on the outskirts of Phoenix, and on account of its local color, should prove quite an attraction. The musical end of the program has been looked after in the usual way and there promises to be some more of the real musical numbers of the Clair brand. Miss Walnwright and Babe Barker both have corking good numbers, which promises to become hits, and Mr. Clair will have a comedy number in this bill in which he portrays the character of an Englishman. There will be a chorus girl's contest Friday night.

"Triby" at Lion Today

For the last time today the attraction at the Lion theater is Clara Kimball Young and Wilton Lackaye in the beautiful Equitable production of DuMaurier's classic "Triby." Clara Kimball Young was never seen to better advantage than in "Triby" while Wilton Lackaye in the role of "Svengali" gives a better rendition than in the same part of the legitimate stage. There are over 700 people in the film version of "Triby" and it pleased a large audience at the Lion yesterday. Tomorrow the Lion will present the well known actress Irene Fenwick in "The Green Cloak" from the play by Owen Davis.

The Amus-U

Today will be the last chance to see one of the best pictures shown
